

Patterns for success

IF people start tae kwon do at the age of three and earn a black belt by eight, it is probably a safe bet they are destined for great things in their chosen sport.

Adam Butterfill of Canning Vale has done precisely that and will take part in the National Tae Kwon Do Championships at Olympic Park in Sydney this week.

The 11-year-old earned selection for the national event after a strong showing in the Patterns and Sparring divisions of the state championships.

Adam trains at least four times a week at the ATI Martial Arts Club in Malaga and his determination, dedication and self-discipline have been the key to his achievements in the sport.

The Perth Montessori School student attributes much of his success to the guidance of his physical education teacher at the school, Adin Livnjak, who is also his ATI Martial Arts Club coach.

While the nationals in Sydney are his prime focus now, Adam does not intend to slow down after the event and will aim to gain his second dan black belt by the end of this year.

Angels through with flying colours

BECKENHAM Angels Soccer Club division 1 under-17s are in top spot and will meet Heathridge in the final.

They have taken on all the teams in this division and come through with flying colours.

Captain Jess Ferguson said 2008 was the team's year and "no-one is going to stand in the way".

For the first time the club fielded an under-13 team in the Football West third division league this season. The team included girls with little or no experience and are in third place on the table of 10 teams with a final game against Melville at Mills Park this Sunday.

A win would confirm third spot and allow them to play in the top four cup.

Players aged 11 to 16 can play at the club.

Back with walking, cross-country medals

MADDINGTON Little Athletics Club athletes competed in the State Little Athletics Road Walking Championships at Thornlie Tafe campus and brought home a swag of medals.

The club's athletes also competed in a state cross-country event the following weekend.

They won four gold, two silver and three bronze medals for the walks and two silver and one bronze medal at the cross-country event.

Children aged six to 17 can register for the coming season from 4.30pm on September 11 at Harmony Fields. Call 9493 4920.
